Importance of Trading in a Simulator

You will likely not succeed without spending a significant amount of time in the simulator.
The simulator will help you sharpen your trading skills before putting any real money at risk.

Test Strategies

We recommend at least 3 months in a simulator.

Simulation Environment

You need to train in a simulation environment that is as real as it can get.

TECHNOLOGY

- The simulation platform must be identical to the one you will be trading live in.
- Needs to provide Real Live Market Data. No Delays or Missing Information.
- Indicators that support your style of trading. (Ex: Level 2 Market Depth)

STRATEGY

- Build your TradeBook using strategies that have been successful in your simulation.
- Make sure you can execute your Strategy in the platform repeatedly.

PSYCHOLOGY

- Build the confidence in Real Live Simulation environment before going live.
- Don't fool yourself. Simulation is as good and effective as you make it.
